FARMVILLE

The circus of 1906 did'nt differ in any marked degree from its long line of predecessors, except that the modern-day variety has a number of rings instead of one, and a dozen clowns instead of two. The jokes have decreased in proportion to the increase in numbers, and the songs die out as soon as the tents are folded whereas in the olden day they lingered long on the lips, and as I believe, in the hearts of the average "small boy." The crowd in attendance was just like those I have been watching on like occasions for the past four decades. Old and young, white and black, men, women and children of all classes, conditions and creeds. I never could understand why the mother, with a young baby in her arms should endure the agony of a circus day walk around. But the circus will come and will always have a warm welcome as long as hard-worked humanity longs for healthful, helpful diversion. By the way our preachers had complimentary tickets sent them this time and at least one of them accepted the courtesy. Should any of us ever go where the preachers are not willing to go?

Ripleiger Bros., who have conducted a confectionery and restaurant business here, have sold out to Mr. Galles, recently come from Wisconsin to make his home with us. It is one of the best stands in town and a flourishing business should be conducted there. My hope is that our new friend will be more than pleased with the new business venture.

Some of the farmers who have recently come from other states and bought land in this community are engaging in "diversified" farming, and I am expecting great things of them. I was at the home of one recently and found that the good housewife had chickens, eggs, geese, honey, apples and potatoes for sale, while the "old man" was busy in the field cutting tobacco. His first crop, by the way, and a good one. This farmer will "stick" because he will succeed, and then, since being in Virginia his health, which had been poor, has become excellent. This of itself makes him more than a millionaire.

Zimmerman Bros. are giving us the best livery service we have ever had in Farmville.

Our three plaining and manufacturing mills are busy centres, while our flouring mill knows no rest day nor night. The new corn mill of the latter is up to date, and as rapid as it is it is a difficult matter to supply the demand for corn meal.

Some of our prudent(?) pocket-book-lovers had their pockets picked at the circus. Strange that a grown man should go to the show with more money on his person than enough to pay for his ticket and buy a little painted lemonade.

Our dispensary took in cash to the amount of $800 on the day of the circus. It will sell more than $60,000 during the year. Big profits in the traffic and of course we will soon have the handsomest town in the State. "Hood money" some will say, and yet our "city fathers" insist that they will not "paint the town red."

The sale of passenger tickets at the N. & W. depot at this place for the month of August amounted to $3813.

Mayor Blanton collected $35 from circus drunks.

Messrs. S. W. Paulette & Son have the largest and handsomest stock of crockery and glass ware to be found outside the limits of the larger cities. Capt. Sam does'nt know how to do things on a small scale. He entered the Confederate service when a small boy and that's the only small thing in his life-history.

The Normal School is full and running over. I just don't know where the girls come from. I now and then attend the opening exercises of the day and the scene is a most impressive one. Twenty-eight teachers grouped on the stage and 500 girls to make the music make a charming and entertaining picture. I suppose there will be seven hundred stu ents on the rolls this session, that will include Kindergarten and all.

Baseball fever is at "fever heat" with us and all classes are involved.

Doyne, our enterprising furniture man and undertaker, has just received the newest variety of hearse. It is an improvement on the old style especially for country service. Friend "BIT" must bein the lead or quit the procession.

But for Zimmerman's good vehicles and quick steppers I don't know how the Hampden Sidney boys would have reached the classic "Hill." The seven miles spin through the country was not only comfortable but interesting as well.

The voters of this town and this district refused to increase taxes for winter purposes by a vote of 99 to 19. Though this is an educational centre the educational spirit among the masses is not very live. The truth of the matter is that a large majority of our people refuse to spell Roosevelt prosperity with a big P.

"Ben" Cox for two weeks past has been the busies man in town. Welcoming and housing 500 girls is no small job, and now the question of feeding them is of daily importance. Their dining room, by the way, is one of the handsomest in the State and the kitchen is as perfect in appointment as modern day science can make it.

Dr. White still enjoys his new ring store and his friends are still congratulating him on his good taste in selecting the furnishings.

There are more Jews in Farmville now than ever before in the history of the town. I have often heard it said that a Jew couldn't live in Farmville and until late years they came and went in quick succession. In recent years some of them have done well.

More than 500,000 bricks and 100,000 feet of lumber will be used in the new Methodist church.

A Clear Complexion and Bright Eyes

In most cases a sallow, blotched complexion and dull heavy eyes are due to poor digestion and an inactive liver. Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup aids digestion and stimulates the liver and bowels and makes the complexion bright and clear. Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup does not nauseate or gripe and is mild and pleasant to take. Refuse substitutes.

Obviates the use of poisonous drugs. It renders the entire system so naturally healthy that disease can find no lurking place. It rids the organism of disease, and at any reasonable stage effects a rapid, natural cure, regardless of the gravity or form of the disorder.

Oxydonor compels the free absorption of oxygen through the lungs, which purifies the blood, and thus carries to every part of the body the health-giving principle, and all that was unfit for use is thrown off.

Montague for President.

If it could be asked what Southern Democrats "measure up to the presidential standard, it may be answered that Virginia, the mother of Presidents, of States and statesmen, has one son who would ably discharge the duties of President—Hon. Andrew Jackson Montague, formerly Governor of the Old Dominion, who represents the generation of Virginians who have no association with the Civil war. Mr. Montague is recognised not only at home but in the north, as a man of vigorous intellect, with high ideals—a clear headed, practical statesman, who gave Virginia an admirable administration as Governor, so far as intellect and force of character are concerned. Mr. Montague is as capable of filling the presidential office as Mr. Roosevelt was when he became President in 1901. If the Democratic party should evince a desire to give a Southern man first place on the ticket in 1908, Virginia could present Mr. Montague as a man in whom the national Democracy could feel absolute confidence.—Baltimore Sun.
